Back-happy tap-stands

Tap stands, where people (usually women) collect water and then carry it home, can also be a place where back injury occurs. Hence back-happy tap-stands which allow the water to be picked up starting from a standing position.

External links

- Health care for Tibetan villages: Rural Water Supply