

1-2. Now the semester is over, what are your thoughts about these overall project? Are they positive or negative? Why? I thought it will be really hard at first because our topic is broad and common. But the project that was given to us is positive because I can say that it will make a change and improvement for our community and health.

3. What were some interesting discoveries you made while working on your projects? Is there a problem? About yourself? About your group mates? It is interesting because we can explore and find new unique things about our topic which is (Proper Waste Disposal and Segregation). The only problem is that I need to find a lot and another sources related to our advocacy.

4. What were some of the challenging moments you encounter? What made them so? Making websites and blogs especially the topic we should choose must be helpful and related. The time when we should go to kids and held a seminar for our advocacy campaign. Because it was hard for me to entertain and approach kids.

5. What were some powerful learning moments? What made them so? Adding our knowledge about ICT, Because through this subject/project we learned a lot. We learned how to create blogs, Update ourselves to the latest environmental problems, and socializing to other people like classmates and kids. Improve our computer skills enhances our knowledge and exposing our kills.

6. what is the most important thing you learned personally? I really learned a lot personally but for me I think that communicating and socializing to people is the most important. Because through socializing and communicating I also gained a lot of confidence and I am confident enough to talk in front of many people.

7. In facing your ultimate problem, what did you realize? How did you find or come out with best solution. In facing my ultimate problem I realize that I just need to find a lot of sources related to our advocacy. The solution is that we should always be considerate and understanding when it comes to the new ideas and opinions that is my own solution to overcome this problem.

8. How do you feel your solution realizes to the real world problem and situations? Because in this world full of broken hearts and mean people the only thing we can do is to consider and understand those kind of people. Because they only needed love and attention they wanted to be the center of attraction.

9. How well did you and your team communicate? It is very well because my group mates and I are kind of like we can understand each other. We can open up easily.

10. When did your collaborative communication falls short in expectation. It falls short in expectation when my other group mates and I are not always telling and deciding the next step of our project. They always say that some members are not helping but the truth is some members can't see the efforts the worked they made.
