The purpose of this memo is to submit a peer-reviewed draft of CBL Designs literature review on the wall cutout garden design project.

Attached, you will find the literature review. This is a composition of all research the team has done on the wall cutout garden project. Topics included are: client information, crop species, soil structures, mobility, hydroponics, and building materials. Also included is a works cited page that includes all references to any webpage, article, or peer review journal the team accessed and drew information from during research. The remainder of the draft document outline is also attached. These materials have been reviewed by the author as well as peer reviewed by the other members of the team.

Please review this document and provide us with feedback on quality and thoroughness. Your comments are appreciated and will be used to improve our document to the highest possible standard.
